Dental Card.

I wish to say a word to the Gentlemen and Ladies of Bangor and vicinity. As parents you would do more for your children than for yourselves. A gentleman in Bangor who is fifty years old, was in my office in April, and I said that he would give me one hundred Dollars if I would save one tooth in his [illegible] without extracting it. But he was too late. If a man will thus value one tooth, what should he [illegible] for his children?

Now if you cannot save your own you can save [illegible] of your children. Almost every day some father or mother will come to the office with some [illegible] child to have me extract some aching tooth. I [illegible] the mouth and find that the painful tooth [illegible] temporary but a permanent one. The parent [illegible] surprised; you are wrong, she has never had but [illegible] teeth there, she will certainly have a permanent [illegible] when this one is out of the way.

A very large proportion of our patrons have never known or have forgotten that in our first set we have but twenty teeth. And that all teeth that grow [illegible] the twenty are permanent ones, thirty two in all. I have extracted within the past year, seven permanent teeth for one little girl who was not eleven years old. Will you parents suffer your children to suffer for their life time by your neglect? If by neglect you have lost your natural teeth, a good adviser will tell you where to go for the best artificial ones. Hundreds of people in Bangor and vicinity will so [illegible] by their own experience all that he has [illegible] in his paper.

DR. J. K. LINCOLN.—Though we have not the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with the gentleman, yet we have reason to believe that he is a most skillful practitioner of the dental art. At least he has made one old face in our house look young again, and has fitted by art, a pair of jaws to masticate the food again which dame nature thought to deprive of this privilege a little too soon. We think the work and composition of the two full sets of teeth he has inserted cannot be exceled anywhere.—Rural Intelligencer

My price now is $50 for a whole set of the best [illegible] teeth. $25 for a half set.

JAMES DUNNING'S

WATCHMAN'S REGISTER.

PATENTED April 25, 1871.

This Register is the cheapest, most effective, simple, accurate and is worked with one eighth part of the labor of any other machine for registering watchman's time known. Many eminent men have examined it and pronounce it far superior to any machine known for that purpose in this Country or in Europe. This Machine will be required to be wound up every Monday morning, and a new dial (made of cardboard) affixed, on which the watchman denotes the time accurately with a lead marker which can be seen by opening the door as plain as the time on a small time piece.

No person interested in this machine will appreciate it so fully as the watchman himself, that is provided the means to discharge his duty in good faith, as it will clearly show to all interested that he has done so, and that to without any question or doubt.

The whole time occupied in noting his time through the night will not occupy one moment. The machine is graduated for the seven days in the week, but should the owner of the property watched be absent one or more days in that time and not open the machine, it will denote the faithfulness of the watchman.

The cases are got up in good style from black walnut and would be an ornament as a piece of furniture to any room or office. It is particularly adapted to Banking houses and corporations where they keep a watchman.

The machinery or movement is a balance wheel lever, manufactured by the most celebrated clock manufacturer in the U. S. For rights and machines or circulars, direct to JAMES DUNNING (owner of the patent) or to the FARMER'S NATIONAL BANK of Bangor.

GREAT EARTHQUAKE IN CHINA.—Terrible Loss of Life. Our minister in China, Governor Lowe, furnishes the State Department at Washington with a brief account of a series of earthquakes which prevailed for several days at Bathang in the province of Sechuen, China. About the first of April there was a sudden and unaccountable rise of waters in the district of Bathang, which continued until the morning of the 4th, when the country for nearly four hundred miles around was convulsed by earthquakes. The shocks were very severe, and continued with intermissions, for ten days, when they became less frequent, and finally ceased. The scenes which ensued were horrible beyond description. During this time the earth rocked and reeled like a ship at sea in a violent storm. The government offices, temples, granaries, stores and storehouses and fortifications, with all the common dwellings and the temple of Ting-lin, were overthrown and ruined. The only exception was the hall in the temple grounds, called Tachao, which stood unharmed in its isolation. A few of the troops and people escaped, but most of the inmates were crushed and [illegible] fall [illegible] and stone.

Eight temples were bowed [illegible] and dwellings were destroyed and [illegible] crushed by the falling walls. THE INSURANCE COMMISSIONER.—After the excursion on Wednesday in the [illegible] of the members of the Insurance Congress repaired in the evening to Delmonico's to partake of a social dinner to which they were invited individually by the members of the Executive Board and the Secretary of the American Popular Life Insurance Company. The dinner was given by these gentlemen in their private, unofficial capacity as a token of personal respect to eminent strangers. The hospitality of New Yorkers was handsomely illustrated by Delmonico who produced the creature comforts in his best style. The gentlemen present expressed themselves as highly delighted with their entertainment which they mentioned was all the more agreeable because of the absence of all intoxicating beverages. They were evidently not needed since nothing was wanting to make the evening pass off in the most satisfactory manner. The speeches were brief, witty and sensible and a vote of thanks was given by each speaker to the hosts of the evening and to the hosts of New York generally, for their liberality and cordiality.

JOHN E BUTLER York

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM

The most convincing proof of the sincerity of President Grant's desire for practical reform in the civil service, has been given in his recent selection of the members of a Commission under the act of Congress to investigate the subject and prepare such rules and regulations as will determine the qualifications of candidates and promote the efficiency of the service The composition of this Board exhibits the characteristic sagacity of the President in choosing persons eminently adapted for the performance of specific duties and the combination of theoretical reformers, practical politicians and experienced officials of the Departments promises that the subject will be considered upon all sides and that the conclusions reached will be comprehensive and useful The President has been earnestly desirous to reform the abuses which entail such an amount of embarrassment and waste of time upon the Executive and other officers and in his last message proposed in a few terse sentences the adoption of such tests as would render it possible to get the right man in the right place, without sacrificing the time of public officers in adjusting the multitudinous claims of office seekers

Congress was naturally reluctant to adopt hastily the elaborately detailed projects which were based entirely upon theory and involved the probability of a failure more disastrous than delay and hence in lieu of attempting at once to carry out either of the plans whose defects were more plainly visible to the majority than to their enthusiastic authors, it was deemed better to invest the Executive with power to make a practical experiment which should be a starting point and guide in the difficult work of reforming long established abuses. The bill was therefore passed at the close of the session authorizing the President to prescribe such rules and regulations for the admission of persons into the Civil Service as should best promote its efficiency and to ascertain the fitness of each candidate in respect to age health, character, knowledge and ability for the service into which he sought to enter Under this bill the Commission referred to has been appointed to consider the subject and give the Executive the benefit of the views adopted

At the head of the Commission is George Wm Curtis of New York, the able editor of Harper's Weekly a gentleman of the highest culture and one of the soundest political thinkers of the day, an earnest advocate of this reform and one who has given much time to its consideration Mr Joseph Medill late editor of the Chicago Tribune is another prominent champion of thorough reform in the civil service having made the subject a specialty and taken the most radical grounds in favor of a complete re-organization of the methods of appointment etc These two members represent the most advanced theoretical views on the subject and will advocate their ideas with unquestioned ability Ex Senator Cattell of New Jersey and Dawson A Walker of Pennsylvania, represent another class whose views are important in this matter—the class actively engaged in political life and which is most intimately connected with the working of our present system Whatever demoralization may have resulted from the custom of making political appointments has been largely due to the influence of traditional usage and while it may well be supposed that the better class of men in public life would gladly be freed from the incubus of solicitations for patronage their knowledge of the existing system and the probable results of given changes will be invaluable to the intelligent solution of the problem. The comprehensive character of the Board is completed by the appointment of Messrs Elliott of the Treasury and Blackfan of the P O Departments gentlemen who will bring to its deliberations a fund of official experience which cannot fail to be of the greatest value

In constituting this Commission so entirely with a view to its fitness for the work in hand, thus repelling every possibility of cavil as to the sincerity of his purpose, the President has again exhibited his determination to faithfully execute every law and to carry out to the extent of his ability every expressed wish of the people The work of civil service reform will hardly be fully consummated by this Commission, but it promises a good beginning, and we can safely anticipate that its work so far as attempted, will be well done It is eminently gratifying to the friends of our Republican administration, that having established the public credit so securely that Pendletonian efforts at repudiation will fail to shake it, having achieved a triumphant and peaceful solution of the threatening controversies with Great Britain, it now promptly lays hold of another vexed problem and promises to handle it with the honesty and vigor which have hitherto wrought out success.

The Democrat thinks the Whig has done a good thing in publishing Jeff. Davis's Atlanta speech, and we agree with it When it wonders what we "can find in it to carp at" and asserts—with the full text in its own columns—that Davis simply advices the Southern people to keep the peace, it places a very strange interpretation upon his very plain utterances The more discreet Democratic journals have promptly abused him for letting out his treason so annoyingly, and although we should ordinarily expect the Democrat to endorse any sedition emanating from so distinguished a leader of its party as Jeff. Davis, we can hardly reconcile its apparent preparations for swallowing the Vallandigham acceptance of the situation, with the support of a rebel who declares that he accepts nothing, that no issues were decided by the war, and that neither he nor his associate traitors ever committed any wrong. Referring to our anticipation of a revival of the lively scenes of the last summer's Portland Convention, in the coming assembly at Augusta, our contemporary, which should be posted in the matter, mysteriously says: "We [illegible] If it succeeds in riding Vallandigham's new departure" and Jeff. Davis's "lost cause" in a single act, we are not [illegible] after all that the [illegible] lenced by the [illegible] vise care, however, in trotting out Jeff. just now, as the Democracy are not all so bold, even the N. Y. World having repudiated the rebel chief with the following spiteful remarks.

To our nostrils the "lost cause" is a stench; and we seek to bury it out of our sight. Onward in the work of subduing Imperialism and corruption, sounds out all along the line "State Rights and Union" is our motto In its vindication we have equal quarrel with Grant Republicans and Davis secessionists

A STUPID FABRICATION A Washington correspondent of the New York Herald recently telegraphed a sensational report to that journal under the head of "A stigma upon the Administration," to the effect that Nathan Sargent, late Commissioner of Customs was removed at the instigation of Senator Hamlin, for refusing to allow him extra compensation as Naval Officer at Boston. This fabrication was eagerly snapped up by the Portland Argus which is ever ready to circulate anything detrimental to the public men of this State, and notwithstanding that the misstatement of Mr Hamlin's official position in Boston must have shown conclusively that the writer was not stating facts, it paraded the report with head lines declaring it "A bad look for Senator Hamlin" We were aware of the falsehood of the statement at the time, but have taken pains to ascertain all the facts in order to show how easily a bohemian can manufacture a false report by patching together disconnected circumstances with the aid of a ready imagination and elastic conscience

Senator Hamlin was never Naval Officer at Boston, but he did hold the office of Collector of Customs at that port until he resigned because he was unwilling to hold official relations to the renegade administration of Andrew Johnson In settling his accounts no demand for extra compensation of any kind was ever made For the duties of disbursing, the funds of the Light house Department outside of his district, he was allowed by law a specified compensation, and this was disallowed by the Commissioner of Customs on the ground that there was no appropriation at the time out of which to pay it. The legality and propriety of the payment had already been twice affirmed by the Supreme Court of the United States in favor of Mr Hamlin's predecessors, Secretary McCulloch at once conceded its validity and repeatedly gave the Commissioner peremptory orders to cease his technical opposition and settle the account, and it was paid in full, nearly two years ago, So much for the extra compensation as Naval Officer

Senator Hamlin did not carry his case to the President, the Secretary of the Treasury taking all the action he required The charge that the officer was removed by Mr Hamlin's efforts has no better foundation than this — On the accession of President Grant, the friends of a very efficient officer of the revenue Department made application for his appointment in the place of Sargent, and upon solicitation Mr Hamlin who was acquainted with the applicant's abilities and convinced of the incapacity of Sargent co-operated in requesting the change The application was unsuccessful and Mr Hamlin has taken no action of any kind in the premises since, and was first made aware of the removal by reading it in the public prints He was convinced that the incumbent was entirely incapacitated from the efficient performance of the duties of the office by reason of age and other infirmities, so stating frankly on the occasion mentioned, to the President and the Commissioner himself the incompetency of the latter has been well known in Washington, and his recent removal would indicate that the Department has at last become equally convinced of the fact

These are the facts which have been twisted into falsehoods to bring upon Senator Hamlin the odium of persecuting or personal reasons a valuable public servant, when he knew nothing of the removal and the change was made by the Department entirely for the benefit of the service and, not even for political rotation as is shown by the fact that the place is still vacant

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE LEGISLATURE Concord dispatches state that both parties held caucuses Thursday morning with closed doors, marshaling for a renewal of the contest for organizing the House Crowds of people came in to the city by every train to witness the annual election parade, but probably doomed to disappointment as the indications were against the immediate decision of the Governor question Mr Weston it is understood declines to visit the city until the question is settled The House met at 10 A M, and after some filibustering adjourned till afternoon, when a vote was reached, after four hours' debate and the organization further completed by the election by a majority of two, of Democrats to fill the minor offices

A LETTER FROM GENERAL SHERMAN The following letter which fails to throw much light on the terms of the speech so generally criticised, was published in New York, Thursday morning

Fort Sill, Camanche Reservation,
May 25th, 1871

To the Editor of the Herald —I have been skirting the Texas frontier for the past month and here for the first time I meet files of Eastern papers, by which I see that quite an unnecessary muss has been raised by a purported speech made by me at a supper of the Union League Club at New Orleans the night preceding my departure from that city Whoever reported that as a speech by me, committed a breach of propriety, for Gov Warmouth presided and before I consented to respond to the call I was assured by the President of the Society that no reporters were present and that whatever was said would be sacred and confined to the persons present. Now as to politics—I think that all my personal friends know my deep antipathy to the subject, yet as you seem not to understand me, I hereby state and mean all that I say, that I never have been and never will be a candidate for President, that if nominated by either party I should peremptorily decline, and even if unanimously elected I should decline to serve If you can find language stronger to convey this meaning, you are at liberty to use it

I am, your obd't servant,
W T SHERMAN,

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL

Pay Inspector A. H Gilman has been ordered to duty at Boston

Richard A. Reading, President of the City Fire Insurance Co., died in New York city Wednesday, aged 69

Gov Cooke has received over one thousand applications for the 136 offices at his disposal in Washington, D C.

The Missouri Republican (Dem.) calls the reappearance of Jefferson Davis on the stump "a stupendous anachronism." It certainly was a most infelicitous resurrection.

A Southern journal thinks the word "departure" too strongly indicative of a sudden conversion and total change of heart and conduct to please the Southern Democratic masses.

A Southern Democratic paper says it began the other day making a list of Southern journals which endorse the liberal policy, and the Mobile Reporter thereupon remarks, "And a quick job you made of it. A short horse is soon curried."

The Cincinnati Times thinks that "the Republicans, with a good State ticket and no twaddling resolutions, will carry the State next October by a large majority. It will hardly come up to the round 100,000 they had the last time Vallandigham led the Democracy, but near enough for practical purposes."

The Louisville Ledger, a Democratic paper of Bourbon proclivities, says the Ohio Democratic platform accepts the Constitutional amendments [illegible] ress." That is the Southern side of the picture; it has another face for the North.

The Republicans of Kentucky assert that many Democrats are dissatisfied with the "Old Bourbon" sentiments of the Democratic candidate for Governor, and will vote for the Republican candidate, Gen. Harlan. Among the men who are named as leading in this movement are Leslie Coombs James F. Robinson, George Robertson and Dr. S. F. Gano

Alexander H Stephens has written a four column letter, which, taken in connection with the platform of the Pennsylvania Democracy, and the "new-departure of the party," is of some significance. It accepts the thirteenth amendment, but repudiates the others, and is throughout a bitter phillipic upon the reconstruction policy of the Government, and by implication a severe arraignment of the Vallandigham Democracy.

The New York Tribune Thursday morning editorially discusses "The Encouraging Republican defeat in New Hampshire" saying "On the whole, we do not regret it. We don't believe so many Republicans will think the next election not worth attending, and we are sure they will take care to vote for candidates on whom they can count after election as well as before"

A Chapter of Facts

Space is valuable in a newspaper and it is therefore proposed in this advertisement to condense a variety of facts, important to the public into a small compass. These facts refer to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—what that celebrated medicine is, and what it will do In the first place then, the article is a stimulant, tonic and alterative consisting of a combination of an absolutely pure spirituous agent with the most valuable medicinal vegetable substances that Botanic research has placed at the disposal of the chemist and the physician These ingredients are compounded with great care, and in such proportions as to produce a preparation which invigorates without exciting the general system, and tones regulates and controls the stomach, the bowels, the liver, and the minor secretive organs

What this great restorative will do must be gathered from what it has done The case of dyspepsia, or any other form of indigestion, in which it has been persistently administered without effecting a radical cure, is yet to be heard from and the same may be said of billious disorders intermittent fever nervous affections, general debility constipation sick headache, mental disabilities to which the feeble are so subject It purifies all the fluids of the body, including the blood and the gentle stimulus which it imparts to the nervous system is not succeeded by the slightest reaction This is a chapter of facts which readers, for their own sakes should mark and remember

THE FUNERAL OF THE MURDERED PRIESTS.

Imposing Ceremonials at Notre Dame.

COUNT DE CHAMBORD IN FRANCE.

THE FUNERAL OF THE MURDERED ARCHBISHOP AND PRIESTS—IMPOSING CEREMONIES AT NOTRE DAME CATHEDRAL—MAGNIFICENT FUNERAL CORTEGE.

PARIS, 7. The funeral ceremonies to-day, over the remains of 5 of the clerical victims of the Commune were solemn and impressive. Notre Dame was grandly arranged. The central object was containing the remains of the Archbishop, surrounded by minor structures bearing the corpses of Duguery, Cone of the Madelaine, Suret, Grand Vicar of the Diocese of Besançon and Sibatier Coffure. The coffin of the Archbishop was covered with a pall of black velvet and enriched with a massive silver cross.

THOUSANDS OF TAPERS

were burning in silver candelabra. The floor was covered with black cloth and the pulpit with black gauze. The transepts 150 feet wide, appeared huge recesses of black drapery which covered every statue except those of the Virgin and Child, St. Denis and the first Bishop of Paris.

THE BISHOP'S CHAIR AND THRONE.

In the midst of all were the black and charred remains of the Bishop's chair and his throne, also half burned by the fire with which the Communists endeavored to bury the Cathedral, was left intact as a memento of the crime.

THE IMPOSING PROCESSION.

Along the route of the procession the windows and streets were crammed with spectators; bells were tolling and a salute of guns fired. A strong force of Regulars with reversed arms and muffled drums were in the procession. The funeral car of the Archbishop was covered with silver and drawn by six horses. Another beautiful car containing the remains of Suret, followed.

AT THE CATHEDRAL.

The procession reached the the Cathedral at 11 o'clock. Inside, the church was crowded with members of the Assembly, Priests and Sisters of Charity. At 11 o'clock the Priests and deputies with martial music, left the church and proceeded to the great doors draped in black, to meet the coffins.

THE CEREMONIES.

The chanting then commenced, and outside were heard the beating of drums, the pealing of trumpets and the roaring of cannon. At the Elevation of the Host the firing was repeated. The altar was magnificently decorated and the services long and solemn. MacMahon, Drusy, Vinoy, Ladmirault and Favre were present,

THE SILK THIEVES.

THEIR ADVENTURES AND CAPTURE.

We stated yesterday that it was rumored that the thieves who stole the silk in this city, were arrested after a sharp fight at at Greenport, L. I. on the 1st inst., on a charge of burglary committed in New London, Ct., on the 29th ult. Further proof seems to leave little doubt that the men arrested are the same persons engaged in the burglary here. Detective Walker soon after the affair, "interviewed" an old man named Smith living in Barkerville, and succeeded in gaining from him the information that Smith's son William, (who had been absent from the city some years) had been on a visit home, and that a fellow named Charles Hamilton, with a half-dozen aliases, accompanied him. Both these chaps bore a hard reputation, and further investigation showed that they were without doubt the silk thieves. Their movements have been traced, and it was found that they came to Bangor Friday night, May 5th, and stopped at Smith's father's until Monday. On that day one of them bought a piece of steel at Schwartz's hardware store, and taking it to S. A. Fellows' blacksmith shop on Clinton St., wanted a "jimmy" made like a wooden pattern which he brought with the steel. Mr. Fellows did not exactly understand what the man wanted, so the burglar took off his coat, went to the forge and did the job in a very workmanlike manner. On Monday night the burglars broke into the stores of Williams & Getchell and J. T. Rines & Co., and stole about $4,500 worth of silk, as we have before noted in these columns. On Tuesday they laid in bed all day at a house near the old B. O. & M. railroad depot. That evening at about 10 o'clock, they bought a trunk at Hayes' store on Broad St., took it to Thurston's shingle shed on the the same street, and pulling the papers off the silk, stowed the fabrics in the trunk and bag in which they were found. Early Wednesday morning they took the trunk and bag to the steamer City of Richmond, where a short time afterwards they were discovered and seized. The burglars intended leaving on the mail train at 7½ o'clock, but the presence of a policeman at the station disconcerted them and they made for the woods back of Barkerville, where they remained until Saturday night, May 13th. That night they went to Brewer Village and stole a sloop yacht, in which they went down river and along the coast to the Westward. On the 20th of May they broke into the store of a Mr. Foss at Wesleyan Gove, Martha's Vineyard, and stole a large quantity of goods, which they afterwards landed at Newport for trans-shipment to New York. After they had gone, one of the Newport police found an empty box they left, and feeling a little suspicious, wrote a description of the box to Mr. Church, the owner of the stolen shoes, who identified it, and the goods were found in New York some days ago, and will be returned.

On the 29th they committed a burglary in New London, Conn., and the officers there getting traces of them followed and arrested them at Greenport, Long Island, finding in their boat a portion of the goods stolen at New London. Sheriff O. N. Raymond of New London, with a Greenport officer, accomplished the arrest, the particulars of which we take from the New London Star. One of the rogues fired twice at Raymond, but missed, when he wrenched himself out of Raymond's grasp and ran, the other breaking away from the Greenport officer at the same time. A running fight ensued, in which pistols were freely used, and Hamilton (who now calls himself Hamlin,) received a charge of buckshot in his hip which brought him down. Smith (who calls himself [illegible]) finding his partner was captured, thought it best to surrender.

On Friday they were brought before [illegible] and [illegible] Hamilton had [illegible] ceived the examination was postponed till the 15th inst. and they were committed for want of bail in the sum of $10,000 each.

MASONIC. The Grand Lodge of F. & A. Masons of New York, on Wednesday, adopted resolutions extending to the Grand Lodge of Quebec full fraternal recognition. The introduction of a preamble and resolution instructing the Grand Lecturer to alter the ritual so as to completely ignore all allusion to sectarianism, called forth a lively discussion, during which the Grand Master said that any Jewish Lodge could, if its members chose, be re-dedicated to King Solomon instead of St. John.

The latest report concerning Jeff. Davis is to the effect that he doesn't care the value of a Confederate bond for politics, and though his recent speeches were made for effect, his sole purpose was to attract attention to himself, as an agent of a life insurance company. Certain it is that it has secured him pretty extensive gratuitous advertising, and the device is worthy of the "Cheap John" who was once the head of the Confederacy.

PYROXYLINE.—Copy of resolutions passed by the Massachusetts Dental Society, May 9, 1871:—

Whereas, articles appeared in the several Boston daily papers of Friday, April 14, entitled "Pyroxyline—Report of Massachusetts Dental Society of Boston upon the new base for Artificial Teeth," which pretended to be truthful reports of the discussions of the society on this subject, and especially purported to be the report of a committee appointed by the society to investigate the claims of the new base; and whereas said articles were paid for as advertisements, therefore Resolved, By the Massachusetts Dental Society, at this its next regular meeting, that said committee have not yet reported the results of its investigations.

Resolved, That the said publication is a garbled, and in the main a false, report of the proceedings of the society on the subject; evidently intentionally calculated to mislead the profession and the public.

Resolved, That the authors of this publication have been guilty of unprofessional conduct in making an unauthorized use of the society's name in advertising their invention, and that such of them as are members of this society do hereby receive its censure. And that those not members, who have received the courtesies of the society in being allowed to join in its discussions, have abused such courtesies, and that they be debarred from its privileges.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Boston daily papers with a request for their publication.

HOW THE INJUN CAUGHT THE NEW-FASHIONED BUFFALO.

There ain't much fun in an Injun,
If there is it's deepish down
And don t crop out at uncommon times,
As it does in a mull or clown
Or a Dutchman or a Yankee,
Or any o them ere chaps
That always are gay at the gravest of times,
And never give heed to mishaps.

No Sir! them red skinned pirates
Mean blood, and a good deal more
And when you are least expecting the same
They're jist outside o yer door
With a torch and a knife and an arrow,
And a whoop of demoniac mirth—
And away they ride by the glaring light
Of your fiercely blazing hearth!

I hain't much luv for an Injun
And when there s a joke worth while
Played off on the sneaking varmint,
I can t keep back a smile—
No more than I can a bullet,
When I see them prowlin about
With a treacherous look like a hungry wolf
That s watchin along the route

Twas down in the "Chestnut Gulch —
I d been huntin for buy a week,
And of all the luck I ever had
That was about the poorest streak
I was feelin blue and tired
As I lay thar on the groun l
But mighty quick you bet! I was roused
By a most uncommon sound

Its cause I soon diskivered
For the great Pacific line
Ran close along and thar was the cars—
I tell you the sight was fine!
On lookin down at the track,
An Injun with stout lasso
Fastened around his waist I saw
Was wat him the ingine too

I jist lai l low for music
Fur I knew there d be a tune
With the injine s shriek and the Injun s whoop
Like a thunder storm in June
On on like the wind it came!
Firm stood that cussed Red
And when it got within easy range
His lasso caught its head!

S ... sold ... cried I while the Injun
And the cars went out of sight
I ... never shall I till my dying day
Forget his look of fright
I ha n t much love for an Injun
But I almost pitied him
Fur bein jerked to the Sperit Land
By a buffalo so grim

IN BANKRUPTCY

In the matter of HOSEA STAPLES, Bankrupt.

At Portland in said District on the 27th day of May A. D. 1871.

DISTRICT OF MAINE, ss: To the Creditors of Hosea Staples of Milo, in the County of Piscataquis, in said District.

Take notice that an application has been filed in said Court, by said Hosea Staples, representing that he has settled with all his creditors, and has received from them severally, full and complete discharges of all and several, the claims against him; and praying that all proceeding in Bankruptcy may be vacated and dismissed, as against him and his estate, and that the 27th day of June, A. D. 1871, at 10 o'clock A. M., at Bangor, is assigned for the hearing of the same, when and where all persons interested may attend, and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said applicant should not be granted.

WM. P. PREBLE, Clerk of the District Court

CARD.

Having become satisfied after thorough investigation, that Elastic Sponge, as now and lately manufactured, is one of the best of all the substitutes for curled hair, for many if not most uses in Upholstery, we have accepted the Agency of it, and intend to make it hereafter a specialty in our business. The objections which have been made to it and which it is well known we ourselves have thought were well founded. We have ascertained cannot be urged against the article as now perfected. The process of manufacture has been entirely remodeled under the advice and superintendence of one of the most eminent chemists of New England. New chemical and mechanical appliances have been introduced in cleansing crude Sponge, and in charging it with glycerine with such entire success, that Elastic Sponge may now be said to be chemically pure There is absolutely nothing in it but the clean fibre of sponge and chemically pure glycerine.

The objections to Elastic Sponge being thus removed there remain its undisputed merits which certainly entitle it to be considered one of the most valuable as it is one of the most curious and interesting of late discoveries Chief among these merits is, that it is proof against moths,—the great scourge of the business,—and against all other insects Then its elasticity is permanent, based as it is upon the non evaporable property of glycerine and the indestructibility of sponge fibre We have always been satisfied upon these two points which are the essential requisites in such materials The evidence is now equally clear that it is wholesome and sweet, It is certainly soft, easy to manipulate and cheap enough for all except the lowest class of goods For the cushioning of Churches, Theatres, Public Halls, Railway Stations Omnibusses, Carriages, Steam and Horse Cars and the like, it will probably be found, everything considered, the best article in use For all uses, and especially for Bedding, we are now prepared to recommend the public to give it a fair trial as we ourselves intend to do We are ready also to answer inquiries make estimates and take orders for every description of work in Sponge as well as to supply the trade the article in Bales.

Timber Land

For Sale at a Low Rate,

Situated on Moose River in the town of Greig Lewis County New York

Said timber consisting of White Hemlock Spruce Pine and Hardwood The subscribers own two large tanneries located on the aforesaid tract which will consume the hemlock bark, thus enabling the land and timber to be purchased at a comparatively cheap rate The timber is excellent in quality in all particulars The aforesaid tract of land is easy of access being only from six to fifteen miles from both the Black River R R and Black River Canal which lead direct to the Albany Market The land is comparatively level, well watered and good for farming purposes Moose River which extends through the tract, is a large stream and empties into Black River, where the aforesaid Canal leads into Black River At this point or junction of the rivers is a fall of sixty (60) feet over which the waters of both rivers flow thus forming an unlimited water power (we might say right in the Canal and at the Depot,) to which Moose River will carry the immense amount of timber from the aforesaid lands

Money Cannot Buy It

For Sight is Priceless!

THE DIAMOND GLASSES,

Manufactured by J. E. SPENCER & CO., New York which are now offered to the public, are pronounced by all the celebrated Opticians of the World to be the MOST PERFECT, Natural, Artificial help to the human eye ever known.

They are ground under their own supervision, from minute Crystal Pebbles, melted together, and derive their name, "Diamond" on account of their hardness and brilliancy.

The Scientific Principle on which they are constructed brings the core or centre of the lens directly in front of the eye, producing a clear and distinct vision, as in the natural healthy sight, and preventing all unpleasant sensations, such as glimmering and wavering of sight, dizziness, &c., peculiar to all others in use.

They are mounted in the finest manner, in frames of the best quality, of all materials used for that purpose. Their finish and durability cannot be surpassed.

CAUTION.—None genuine unless bearing their trade mark stamped on every frame.
